Current & Potential Level

Paulinho is a 23-year-old attacking midfielder who currently plays for Portimonense in Portugal. The Brazilian playmaker can also play on both wings due to his versatility.

He has an phenomenal technique, solid dribbling skills and reads the game very well. He mainly uses his -excellent- left foot only. Despite not being the tallest player on the pitch, Paulinho has a solid balance and is fairly strong. Both his acceleration and pace are also quite impressive.

He could even become a better player if he can keep his focus for 90 minutes, because he often has the tendency to lose his concentration during the game.

I believe Paulinho is ready for the next chapter in his career. He would be a good signing for any ambitious team in Portugal or a top team in the Belgian Jupiler Pro League for example.
