Current & Potential Level

Núrio Fortuna has made a great impression since his first game with Charleroi and is already one of the revelations in the Belgian Jupiler Pro League.

Fortuna plays as left-back, but his incredible stamina allows him to play as a left midfielder and left winger at the same time as well. Nothing stops him from running the whole 90 minutes from box-to-box. Furthermore, his pace is also impressive. Once an opponent gives him some space, he will immediately take advantage of that space with his outstanding physical attributes.

His technical attributes are fine as well. He has a solid technique and first touch, and his dribbling skills are also quite impressive. However, there is still room for improvement on his crossing, passing on long distances and marking.

In my opinion, Fortuna is already one of the best left-backs in Belgium. If he manages to continue playing in his current form, Charleroi will not be able to keep him after this season. I can see him signing for a team in one of the best European leagues next year.
