Current & Potential Level

Alex Remiro is a 22-year-old goalkeeper who currently plays for SD Huesca on loan from Athletic Bilbao in the Spanish LaLiga2. Remiro made a great impression on me in the beginning of the 17/18 season with several excellent performances.

Remiro is a complete goalkeeper who scores good ratings on his distributions (passing on short & long distances). He has quick reactions, reflexes and is athletically gifted. However, there is still room for improvement for one-on-one duels with opposing attackers.

If Remiro can confirm what he has been showing so far, he will most likely attract interest from ambitious teams in the upcoming months. I believe he certainly has the potential to play in the Primera Division in several years. If he wants to move out of Spain, he would be a good signing for any top team in leagues like the Belgian Jupiler Pro League or the Dutch Eredivisie.
